1914 marked the release of the first bottles of cava under the Freixenet brand crafted by the Ferrer-Sala family at their Casa Sala facility, the first wine exporting house in Sant Sadurni d’Anoia. Now, the heirs to the founders have decided to commemorate those bottles by making a limited edition of 20,000 bottles with grapes from the same vineyards, pressed by the same antique French press, which at the time had been designed especially to press grapes for cava. These bottles have been crafted following strictly traditional methods, using native cava grape varietals. Their presentation and bottling has been done conserving the original look of those bottles that first hit the market in 1914. The result is an exclusive product of unsurpassable quality and exceptional personality.

GOVERNMENT WARNING: (1) ACCORDING TO THE SURGEON GENERAL, WOMEN SHOULD NOT DRINK ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES DURING PREGANCY BECAUSE OF THE RISK OF BIRTH DEFECTS. (2) CONSUMPTION OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES IMPAIRS YOUR ABILITY TO DRIVE A CAR OR OPERATE MACHINERY, AND MAY CAUSE HEALTH PROBLEMS

Imported by Freixenet U.S.A. - Sonoma, CA